August 30, 1996; Friday
Biked Royal Oak to Cranebrook and back. Did laundry, cleaned room, got ready for camping and left the house at 5am Saturday.

August 31, 1996; Saturday
I was tired and took my first sleep stop at 10 mile and I-94 (did not even make it out of town). When I woke up, I saw people looking at me sleeping (I was in front of a house in a residential area). I bought some bungee cords in Port Huron and then I biked around town (6 miles). After that I Drove to the Pinery campground in Ontario, Canada, the campground was full. I stopped at 4 other campgrounds and they were all full. I then drove to Grande Bend and biked to the Pinery and back (25 miles). I drove down road towards Ipperwash and stopped at a campground, they were full and suggested that I check Happy Holiday camp ground. I biked to that campground and found an empty office. I then biked to highway 21 on Ipperwash road and then back to campground on Ipperwash road. At that time, I found a person in the office, that person was a campground resident, the man was with his wife, she stayed at office with me while her husband went looking for the campground attendant (Willie). I biked around the campground and he showed me the two empty sites, after he rented me one of the sites, he told the next people that were looking for a camp site that the campground was full (I think if I was not on a bike that he would have told me the campground was full). It cost $20.00/night Canadian. (Bike miles 52.42/ car miles 206.9 - 33)

September 1, 1996; Sunday
I biked from campground to highway 21, army road the back to 21 and camp (big loop, 15.72 miles). Biked around Sarnia, road south on St. Clair Parkway (riverside road) and then biked north, checked out the local carnival. Then I drove to Flint and went to the Renaissance Festival. Biked around Holly Ski area. (41.62 miles)

Google map – of an area that Ted Cycle in Ontario, Canada.

Ted's bike on the beach at Pinery Provincial Park, Ontario, Canada.

The sun setting on lake Huron near Pinery Provincial Park.